

TapApp service is now available for iOS! Adding to our already successful Android service, TapApp can is also available for iPhone, iPad and iPod devices. This new app uses the same information source to power both iOS and Android apps - no additional work is required to update your tap and event lists if you are already using our Android service.

